EVALUATION OF COMMUNICATION PERFORMANCE

Student Lee Moore Teacher Miss Rudolph Gr. 3 Room _____

As a result of a speech and hearing evaluation, the following speech & language disorders were observed:

- ☐ Language impairment: A significant deviation in expressive or receptive oral language in the specific areas of morphology (sounds), syntax (grammar), and/or vocabulary.
- ☐ Articulation impairment: The consistent misarticulation of one or more phonemes. The results of a norm referenced (standardized) prognostic evaluation instrument must be considered for a child below eight years of age prior to determining eligibility for services.
- ☐ Fluency impairment: Reduced intelligibility and rate because of a high disfluency ratio and/or struggle or avoidance and fear of speaking situations.
- ☒ Voice impairment: Exhibits difficulties in the areas of pitch, quality, and/or loudness not appropriate to the student's age or sex.
- ☐ Hearing impairment: Has a measurable hearing loss, the type and/or degree of which is adversely affecting the child's communication skills as determined by an audiologist's evaluation.

Instructions to the Teacher: Your observation, which is part of a multi-factored assessment procedure, is in accordance with the guidelines for current program standards for special education units for speech, language, and hearing services in the state of Ohio (#3301-51-08 B. 4. C.). Please complete the following with a "yes" or "no".

- no The child avoids speaking situations.
- yes Other children in the class seem to react negatively toward the child because of his/her speech.
- no The child's social maturity and interaction is inappropriate for age and grade level.
- no The child has difficulty participating in classroom discussions involving two or more persons.
- no The child has difficulty hearing and understanding directions, conversation, and material presented during class most of the time.
- no The child has difficulty understanding material presented via audio-visual equipment.
- no The child has difficulty listening and discriminating likenesses and differences in speech sounds.
- no The child uses incomplete sentences and language inappropriate for grade level.
- no Vocabulary development and comprehension is inappropriate for grade level.
- no The child has difficulty understanding concepts such as space, quantity and time appropriate for age level.
- no The child's speech ability is reduced when the child is placed in a stressful situation.
- no The child communicates with gesture in lieu of speaking.
- no The child has difficulty demonstrating reasoning ability and knowledge of cause-effect relationships appropriate to age level.
- no The child's verbal intelligibility is reduced hampering his/her ability to communicate information.
- no The child has difficulty correctly producing sounds.
- no The child has difficulty blending sounds together to form words.
- yes The child's vocal quality detracts from the message he/she is trying to communicate.

The following professionals are in agreement that this child is adversely affected due to the presenting communication disorder when compared to his/her peers.

Name: Lee Moore
Age: 8
B.D.: 10/19/74

D.O.E.: 10/15/82
Clinician: Diane Games

Reason for Referral: Miss Rudolph referred Lee for an evaluation due to consistent hoarse vocal quality noted in classroom activities. She noted that the voice became worse during the day and that the hoarseness did not appear to be connected with allergies or a cold.

Vocal Description: During an evaluation the following observations:

- .severe, hoarse vocal quality which worsens at the end of the day or following prolonged phonation,
 - .pitch range limited to 13 notes with habitual pitch at the bottom of range. Pitch varies little during conversational tasks and pitch breaks were noted,
 - .soft presentation of voice was noted with periods of audible, irregular breathing.
- Lee could sustain a sound for 8 seconds.

History: Lee's voice problem has been evident for several years. There is no history of allergies or illness.

Recommendations:

- .Evaluation by an ear,nose and throat specialist to determine if a physical problem is causing the hoarse quality.
- .Vocal therapy to reduce the hoarse quality.
